1 INT. GILMORE HOUSE - LIVING ROOM - NIGHT (NIGHT 1) 1

LORELAI, RORY, RICHARD and EMILY are seated at the formal dining room table. They have just finished dinner.

RICHARD
Dinner was lovely, Emily.

EMILY
Mira does make a perfect cassoulet.

LORELAI Who's Mira?

EMILY
Our cook.

LORELAI
I thought Heidi was your cook.

EMILY
Oh, no. We let Heidi go months ago. She had a problem closing things. The doors, the refrigerator...

RICHARD
...the liquor bottle.

EMILY
And then it was Trina, then Sophia...

RICHARD
I liked Sophia.

EMILY
No, you didn't.

RICHARD
I didn't?

EMILY
She was the one who sang.

RICHARD
That's right. Terrible woman.

1

EMILY

After Sophia, we had Anton.

RICHARD

That's right. Anton was the one I liked.

LORELAI

I'm sorry, how do you mix up Anton and Sophia?

RICHARD

What do you mean?

LORELAI

Well, one is a man and one is a woman.

RICHARD

The point being...

LORELAI

That one is a man and one is a woman.

RICHARD

I have a lot of things to do in a day, Lorelai. I can't be expected to keep up on the multitudes of people that your mother employs.

LORELAI

Yeah, but one is a man and one is a woman.

A YOUNG WOMAN in a maid's outfit comes out with plates and cake.

LORELAI (cont'd)

The dinner was great, Mira.

SARAH

It's Sarah.

LORELAI

Oh, sorry.

Sarah puts the cake down and exits.

LORELAI (cont'd)

(to Emily)

It's Sarah.

1

EMILY

I thought she said Mira.

LORELAI

Of course you did.

RORY

Hey Grandma, these plates are pretty.

EMILY

Thank you, Rory. They were your great grandmother's.

RICHARD

Lorelai the first.

RORY

I thought mom was the first.

EMILY

Not in the name.

LORELAI

But in a lot of other things, I'm a regular trailblazer.

Emily shoots her a look.

Just finishing your thought.

RICHARD

Lorelai the first was my mother. She was an extremely accomplished equestrian and distinguished patron of the arts. She was also world renowned for her masquerade balls. She was quite a woman, my mother.

EMILY

(sick of hearing this)

Yes, she was.

(calling off)

Mira, come cut the cake, please!

LORELAI

Yeah. And why don't you bring Sarah out here with you.

Emily shoots her a look.

FADE OUT.

ACT ONE

FADE IN:

A2 INT. GILMORE HOUSE - DINING ROOM - A LITTLE WHILE LATER - A2 NIGHT (NIGHT 1)

The cake has been cut and served. Mira/Sarah is pouring coffee.
All are eating.

EMILY

So, Lorelai, how are things at that charming little inn of yours?

LORELAI

Well, it's still charming and little. We're keeping our fingers crossed that it doesn't assert itself and become rude and large.

RORY

Mom's having a huge wedding there this week.

EMILY

Really?

LORELAI

Oh, yeah. People are coming from all over the country.

EMILY

Well, isn't that nice.
(briefest of pauses)
Rory, how is Chilton?

LORELAI

Okay. Done with me now.

EMILY

I'm sorry, was there more to the story?

LORELAI

Rory has to pick a team sport to play.

RORY

It's a requirement.

A2 CONTINUED:

A2

RICHARD

Physical fitness is as important as intellectual fitness. So says Plato, so say I.

EMILY

What sport are you going to pick?

RORY

I'm not sure. I'm not exactly the athletic type.

LORELAI

I told her she should go out for the debating team.

RORY

That's not a sport.

LORELAI

It is the way the Gilmores play.

EMILY

(to Rory)

Well, what are your choices?

RORY

God, there's like a thousand of them. Basketball. Lacrosse.
Track. Swimming. Golf.

EMILY

(perking up)

Golf?

RORY

Yeah.

EMILY

Well, your grandfather's a golf player.

LORELAI

Oops.

EMILY

He plays every week at the club.
He could teach you to play like a pro.

RICHARD

Now, Emily...

A2 CONTINUED: (2)

A2

EMILY

Why, he could take you to the club on Sunday. It's perfect.

RORY

Oh, well...

RICHARD

Emily, a person can't just learn golf in an afternoon. It's a difficult sport.

LORELAI

That's okay. Rory can find something else.

EMILY

Why should she find something else?
She needs to learn a sport and Richard can teach her a sport.

(to Rory)

You can use your mother's old clubs.
They're upstairs gathering dust with the rest of her potential.

LORELAI

Okay. Mom, could I maybe talk to you for a minute?

EMILY

We're having dessert.

LORELAI

I know. But I have to talk to you before the sugar sets in and makes me crazy.

EMILY

(getting up)

You are the oddest person.

LORELAI

(to herself)

Yeah, too easy.

Emily and Lorelai walk out of the dining room.

B2 INT. GILMORE HOUSE - ENTRYWAY - CONTINUOUS - NIGHT (NIGHT 1) B2

EMILY

What is so important that it can't wait for cake?

LORELAI

Keep moving.

C2 INT. GILMORE HOUSE - LIVING ROOM - CONTINUOUS - NIGHT (NIGHT 1) C2

Lorelai and Emily enter. Emily stops and faces Lorelai.

EMILY

This is as far as I can go unless you'd like me to bore my way through the wall.

LORELAI

Don't do this, Mom.

EMILY

Do what?

LORELAI

Force Dad and Rory to go golfing.

EMILY

I'm not forcing anybody.

LORELAI

You are manipulating the situation in a way that gives no one a way out. That's force. Look it up.

EMILY

I was just trying to help your daughter get an education.

LORELAI

Thank you. She'll find another sport.

EMILY

Why should she?

LORELAI

Because she doesn't want to go and dad doesn't want to take her.

C2 CONTINUED:

C2

EMILY

Oh, your father doesn't know what he wants. He'd get his hair cut at the butcher's if I'd let him.

LORELAI

Just let this go, okay?

EMILY

Well, isn't this something. You're afraid.

LORELAI

Of what?

EMILY

That Rory will enjoy the club and have a good time without you?

LORELAI

That's crazy.

EMILY

I agree.

LORELAI

I am not afraid.

EMILY

Then let her go.

LORELAI

She won't enjoy it.

EMILY

Well, why don't we just let Rory decide?

LORELAI

Because Rory is the sweetest kid in the world. She would never tell you that she didn't want to go because she would be afraid of hurting your feelings.

EMILY

Oh, I'm sure you could give her some coaching to get her over that.

LORELAI

I'm not trying to hurt your feelings. This isn't even about you, believe it or not.

C2 CONTINUED: (2)

C2

EMILY

Of course it's about me. If Rory goes and has a good time without you, then I win.

LORELAI

Look, Bob Barker, Rory knocks herself out all week at Chilton and the weekends are her only time to unwind and have fun.

EMILY

With you.

LORELAI

I'm there.

EMILY

I see. So, let me get this straight. There's no way that Rory could possibly enjoy a weekend day with her grandfather.

LORELAI

You're going to twist this all around, aren't you?

EMILY

And you know your daughter so well that you don't even have to ask her opinion on this. She'd be miserable and you'd know it.

LORELAI

I'm so setting myself up here, but that's right. She'd be miserable.

EMILY

That sounds a little controlling to me.

LORELAI

Yeah. I walked right into that.

EMILY

Interesting, isn't it? You being the one who's controlling?

LORELAI

I am not being...

C2

EMILY

According to you, I was the only one in the family with that particular gift.

LORELAI

Mom, I never said...

EMILY

I guess you and I are more alike then you thought, aren't we?

Lorelai stares at her a beat.

LORELAI

You win.

EMILY

Thank you.

Emily turns away happily and heads off. Lorelai stands there fuming.

2 EXT. GILMORE HOUSE - A SHORT TIME LATER - NIGHT (NIGHT 1) 2

The door closes and Lorelai and Rory start to walk away.

LORELAI

Man, did you get blindsided. God,
I am so sorry.

RORY

That's okay.

LORELAI

I tried to stop it. I swear.

RORY

I know. Maybe it won't be that bad.

LORELAI

Maybe it won't.

RORY

Maybe I'll like it.

LORELAI

Maybe you will.

RORY

Maybe you could come with me?

2

LORELAI

Is there a "You're Crazy" team?
'Cause I think they'd make you captain.

RORY

Please?

LORELAI

Rory, I love you and would gladly take a bullet for you. But I'd rather stick something sharp in my ear than go to the club with you.

RORY

Fine.

LORELAI

I'd rather slide down a banister of razor blades and land in a pool of alcohol than go to the club with you.

RORY

I got it.

LORELAI

Don't stop me now, I'm on a roll.
I'd rather eat my own hand then go to the club with you. I'd rather surgically alter my face like that lunatic rich lady with the lion head then go to the club with you.

RORY

Would you like me to drive so that you can continue your diatribe?

LORELAI

(handing her the car keys)

Would you? Thanks. I would rather be sold to a band of pirates....

They walk to the car as Lorelai continues.

3 EXT. INDEPENDENCE INN - SUNDAY MORNING (DAY 2)

3

Tables are rolling by, chairs are being set up and a bridge is being wound with beautiful greens and tiny purple flowers. Lorelai walks toward the inn with ARLENE SHALES, a very well put together woman in her fifties. With them walk the brides to be, JACKIE and JESSICA. Identical twins, in their early twenties, dressed very differently but same stress level.

LORELAI

And you'll walk down here, over the bridge, with the swans floating by and the music playing...

JACKIE

What are they doing with those purple flowers?

LORELAI

They're decorating the bridge.

JACKIE

I didn't want purple flowers. I wanted pink.

JESSICA

And I wanted blue.

LORELAI

So, I thought violet would be a nice compromise.

JACKIE

But we paid for pink flowers.

JESSICA

And blue flowers.

ARLENE

(curt, to daughters)

You did not pay for anything. I told her to decorate it with the violet flowers and while it's very nice of her to take the heat for me, it's not necessary. If you don't like it, buy your own flowers.

Jackie and Jessica remain silent.

ARLENE (cont'd)

I thought so. Now go away. My Advil's wearing off.

3

The unhappy, pouty twins walk off. The mother turns to Lorelai.

ARLENE (cont'd)
Their father spoiled them.

LORELAI
They're just excited.

ARLENE
They're spoiled and they won't move away. Now, disaster list.
What if it rains?

LORELAI
We'll put up tents.

ARLENE
What if it's windy?

LORELAI
We'll secure things and put extra hair spray in everyone's hair.

ARLENE
Too hot?

LORELAI
We'll have spray mist and fans that won't cause any damage because of the things that have been secured and the hair that's been sprayed.

ARLENE
So, I have nothing to worry about?

LORELAI
No.

ARLENE
There must be something.

LORELAI
I've got it all under control.
Now, why don't you go up to your room and have a fabulous bubble bath, I'll send up some wine and a masseur that bears a remarkable resemblance to Antonio Banderas.

ARLENE
How remarkable?

3

LORELAI
Get ready to applaud.

ARLENE
This is my favorite place in the whole world.

Lorelai and Arlene go in the inn.

4 INT. INDEPENDENCE INN - LOBBY - CONTINUOUS - MORNING (DAY 2) 4

MICHEL is handing out cellophane-wrapped baskets filled with bottles of wine, candy, fruit, cheese, nuts, a schedule and a map. GUESTS are greeting each other in the background.

Lorelai joins Michel behind the desk.

LORELAI
Send Murry up to room thirty-five in twenty minutes. So, any problems?

MICHEL
With the wedding or my life?

LORELAI
One guess and I'll give you a hint.
It's not your life.

MICHEL
Do you stage these events to torture me?

LORELAI
Yes.

MICHEL
Job well done.

LORELAI
Thank you. Okay, let's start again.
Any problems?

MICHEL
Guests are checked in, baskets are given out, and two hundred thousand tons of Jordan almonds have been delivered.

LORELAI
Did Rory call?

4

4

MICHEL

No.

LORELAI

She's golfing with my father today and I'm half expecting this big "save me" call to come in and...
you don't care at all?

MICHEL

To me, you are the teacher in a Charlie Brown cartoon.

LORELAI

Fine. Forget it. Have the grooms arrived? Their plane was supposed to get in at seven so they should've arrived by now.

MICHEL

Maybe they made a run for it.

LORELAI

Oh, somebody got stood up for the prom.

MICHEL

(he spots something)
Oh, dear.

LORELAI

What?

She sees what Michel sees. A set of TWENTY-SOMETHING IDENTICAL
TWIN MEN have arrived with their luggage.

LORELAI (cont'd)

Wow.

MICHEL

Are those...

LORELAI

No. It would be too...

The twin brides run over to greet the twin grooms.

LORELAI (cont'd)

Weird.

MICHEL

You kept this from me on purpose.

4

LORELAI

It's like a really snooty double-mint commercial.

MICHEL

Just let me know when the midgets and clowns arrive.

He starts off. She grabs his arm.

LORELAI

No way. You have to get them settled.

MICHEL

I'm not talking to them.

LORELAI

Yes, you are.

MICHEL

I'm not talking to them nicely.

Lorelai crosses away as Michel braces himself.

5 INT. GILMORE HOUSE - ENTRYWAY - MORNING (DAY 2)

5

Emily is looking in a shopping bag. Richard enters in his golfing duds. He's not looking happy.

RICHARD

It's after eight o'clock. She should've been here by now.

EMILY

She'll be here.

RICHARD

They expect you to tee off promptly at your designated time.

EMILY

You pay good money to that place. You'll tee off when you tee off. Is that what you're wearing?

RICHARD

Yes.

EMILY

Hmm.

5

RICHARD

What's wrong with what I'm wearing?

EMILY

Nothing, it's fine.

RICHARD

This whole thing is absurd.

EMILY

She's your granddaughter.

RICHARD

She's a sixteen year old girl who would rather be at the mall.

EMILY

Make sure you show her all around the club. Especially the rose garden.

RICHARD

I'm not a tour guide.

EMILY

And make sure you take her to lunch and have her get dessert.

RICHARD

No one said anything about lunch.

EMILY

I hope Lorelai's clubs are still in good shape.

RICHARD

You are not listening to me. I will teach her to golf as promised by you, but lunch is out of the question.

EMILY

You have to eat.

RICHARD

Yes, but...

EMILY

So you'll eat together. Do you have sunscreen?

RICHARD

Emily...

5

The doorbell RINGS.

EMILY

She's here.

RICHARD

Eight-thirty. We must remember to buy her a watch.

Emily goes to the door. She puts her hand on the knob and just before she opens it, turns on Richard.

EMILY

Richard, so help me God, you will be sweet to this girl, and you will make this a memorable day for her. This is the first time we've gotten to show our granddaughter off at the club and it means a great deal to my happiness, and yours, that this day go well. Are we clear?

She swings the door open wide with a big smile. Rory stand outside.

EMILY (cont'd)

Rory! Hello.

Rory comes in.

RORY

Sorry, I'm late.

EMILY

Nonsense. You're right on time.

RORY

Hi, Grandpa.

RICHARD

Rory. Nice to see you.

EMILY

It's a perfect day for golfing isn't it, Richard?

RICHARD

It's cooler at eight.

Emily starts looking Rory over.

5

RORY

Am I dressed okay? I didn't have any of those short pant things.

EMILY

Actually, there is something missing. Oh, wait a minute.

Emily reaches into her shopping bag and pulls out a brightly colored plaid beret with a big pom pom on top. She places it on Rory's head and smiles.

EMILY (cont'd)

There we go. Now you look just like Tiger Woods.

RORY

Wow. That's some hat.

EMILY

Okay. Now, off you go you two.
Have a wonderful time.

RORY

We will.

Rory exits. Emily drops her smile and gives Richard a you have been warned look. Richard sighs and exits.

FADE OUT.

END OF ACT ONE

ACT TWO

FADE IN:

6 EXT. COUNTRY CLUB - DAY (DAY 2)

6

Rory and Richard are walking up to the first tee. They walk in silence a beat.

RORY

Is it hard to become a member here?

RICHARD

Everyone has to go through a very thorough screening process.

RORY

Kind of like the FBI?

RICHARD

Oh, we're much more thorough than that.

RORY

Wow.

RICHARD

Yes.

They walk in silence another beat. Richard looks at Rory and decides it's his turn.

RICHARD (cont'd)

You know the merger of Forscapes and D.S.S happened right here on this lawn.

RORY

Really?

RICHARD

The world of international finance will never be the same. And all because of a lost golfing bet.

RORY

That's crazy.

RICHARD

That's high finance.

They arrive at the first tee.

6 CONTINUED:

6

RICHARD (cont'd)
Well, here we are.

RORY Yep.

RICHARD
Now, what do you know about golf?

RORY
That it's a good walk spoiled?

Richard shakes his head. He places the ball. He hands Rory a club.

RICHARD
Now, your short irons are the heart of any solid game. Pay close attention to the pin placement and the pitch of the green. You want to try to put a little backspin on the ball, so it bites properly.

RORY
Backspin for the bite. Got it.

RICHARD
Now you want to widen your stance a little more and arch your back a little more and your hands should be just ahead of the ball. Okay, concentrate and swing.

With a look of determination, Rory hits the ground instead of the ball, removing a big hunk of grass.

RORY
I'm betting that was wrong.

RICHARD
There is no right or wrong in the learning process.

Richard replaces the dirt.

RICHARD (cont'd)
One more time, please.

Rory hits the dirt again.

RORY
Okay, I'm betting that was wrong.

7 INT. INDEPENDENCE INN - KITCHEN - MIDDAY SUNDAY - DAY 7
(DAY 2)

SOOKIE and JACKSON stand in the kitchen. Baskets of blueberries are on the counters. Sookie is looking at them with a confused look on her face.

SOOKIE
These are blueberries. I thought
I ordered strawberries.

JACKSON
I know. But...

SOOKIE
I did. I wrote it down. I've got a copy.

Sookie goes to her desk and rifles through a stack of papers.

JACKSON
Sookie, will you listen?

SOOKIE
Mushrooms, melons, endive, peaches kiwi...

JACKSON
Excuse me, crazy lady?

SOOKIE
Ooh, I should make kiwi ice cream some time. That would be good.

JACKSON
Sookie! I know you ordered strawberries. But they weren't any good. So instead of selling you substandard strawberries, I brought you blueberries.

SOOKIE
I have to make strawberry shortcake for two hundred people. I can't do that without strawberries.

JACKSON
Use the blueberries.

SOOKIE
To make what?

7 CONTINUED:

7

JACKSON
Blueberry shortcake.

SOOKIE
There's no such thing.

JACKSON
Hey, the world was flat till someone took a boat trip.

SOOKIE
Can I see the strawberries?

JACKSON
No.

SOOKIE
Just one.

JACKSON
No.

SOOKIE
What about a Polaroid?

Lorelai enters the kitchen.

LORELAI
Coffee, coffee, coffee...

She heads over to the coffee pot and pours herself a cup. She spots a piece of cake on the counter.

LORELAI (cont'd)
Hey, Sookie, can I have this cake for Rory? She's going to need a treat tonight. Right now she's at the club golfing with my father.

SOOKIE
(to Lorelai)
No!

JACKSON
Take the blueberries.

SOOKIE
(to Jackson)
No.

LORELAI

My mother, of course, masterminded the whole thing. One minute we're having an excruciating family dinner, and the next minute she's manipulated my kid into sacrificing her Sunday to go to the club with my father. Okay, I have to stop thinking about it. I'm making myself upset.

(to Sookie)

Tell me something happy.

SOOKIE

I can't make the strawberry shortcake.

LORELAI

Wow. You suck at this game.

Michel enters.

MICHEL

The battle for soup versus salad is raging in the other room. Come quick and settle it, please, as I am out of French curse words that they won't understand.

Lorelai follows Michel out of the kitchen.

8 INT. INDEPENDENCE INN - LOBBY - CONTINUOUS - DAY (DAY 2) 8

The brides are squabbling in the corner. Arlene comes over to Lorelai. She looks like she's barely hanging on.

ARLENE

It's been two hours of soup or salad. Soup or salad. I can't do it anymore. Get me a cab. I'm going to go far away now and never come back.

LORELAI

How about if guests get a choice of soup or salad?

ARLENE

That'll work.

The mother walks over to the brides. Sookie walks over to Lorelai and Michel.

SOOKIE Got it.

The twin grooms join the group. Lorelai, Michel, and Sookie watch them from a distance.

LORELAI
So weird.

SOOKIE
Which one is which?

LORELAI
I think the guy on the right is Matt.

MICHEL
The one on the left is Matt. The one on the right is Mark.

LORELAI
That's very impressive.

MICHEL
Yes, well I'm very good at observing people. Learning their ticks and traits, the sound of their voices. It's a gift.

SOOKIE
That one's got a post-it on his back.

MICHEL
Oh. Well, then that's Mark. The one on the right is Matt.

LORELAI
You will go take that off of him.

MICHEL
I will not. We can't all just call everyone sweetie and get away with it.

SOOKIE
Okay, now, go with me here.

Let's say that Mark walks into a hotel room and sees his wife naked but it's not his wife, it's his naked sister-in-law, and he has sex with her and she thought it was her fiancé not her brother-in-law. Would they be cheating?

MICHEL

My head hurts.

LORELAI

I think no.

SOOKIE

Really? Lucky.

MICHEL

If you ask me, this union belongs on a public access station. It's against the laws of nature and just this short of completely obscene.

LORELAI

Okay, you will not be giving the wedding toast.

Lorelai crosses over to Arlene. The twins are walking off.

LORELAI (cont'd)

How's everything going?

ARLENE

Do you have children?

LORELAI

A daughter.

ARLENE

Do you hate her?

LORELAI

No.

ARLENE

Not ever?

LORELAI

Well, I wasn't wildly fond of her during labor.

9 EXT. COUNTRY CLUB - DAY (DAY 2)

Richard and Rory across a little bridge.

RORY

I can't believe I actually hit the ball.

RICHARD

It was quite impressive.

RORY

It landed in the water.

RICHARD

Yes. But the splash was quite impressive.

RORY

This place is so beautiful. I could see just coming here to think or read. Though that probably defeats the point of the holes with the flags in them.

RICHARD

There is something rather serene about walking around here.

RORY

You come here every week?

RICHARD

No. But when I can. I'm often working on the weekends.

RORY

Bummer.

RICHARD

Isn't it?

They walk a beat.

RORY

Can I ask you a question?

RICHARD

Go ahead.

RORY

What do you do?

RICHARD

I am the Executive Vice-President of Hartford Insurance Corporation.

RORY

Wow.

RICHARD

Yes.

RORY

So, as Executive Vice-President,
what do you do?

RICHARD

Well, it's a very big company.
One of the largest in the country, as a matter-of-fact. I have a myriad of duties that would bore you greatly to hear about.

RORY

(a little disappointed not to get an answer)

Oh. Okay.

They walk a beat. Richard looks at her.

RICHARD

I oversee our international division.

RORY

That sounds important.

RICHARD

It rates a parking spot.

RORY

You get to travel a lot?

RICHARD

Quite a bit.

RORY

Lucky.

RICHARD

I suspect you have a yen to travel.

RORY

I'm up to my ears in yens.

RICHARD

Any particular place you'd like to go?

RORY

Hundreds of places. Paris, London, Rome, Prague, Istanbul, Fez... you ever go to Fez?

RICHARD

Can't say that I have.

RORY

I'd like to go to Fez.

RICHARD

I think traveling for a young girl is an important thing. Your mother never got to travel much.

RORY

I know. She talks about that all the time.

RICHARD

She does?

RORY

We've got a deal. When I graduate high school, we're going to backpack across Europe together. You know, do the whole hostel thing. I just hope it really happens.

RICHARD

Well, we'll just have to make sure it does.

Rory smiles at Richard. A woman, GLORIA, with a poodle in her lap, drives up to them in a golf cart. Richard spots her.

GLORIA

Richard!

RICHARD

Why hello, Gloria. You look wonderful.

RICHARD

No. I'm taking my granddaughter for a round of golf today.

GLORIA

Well, we must get together.

RICHARD

Absolutely.

He smiles and waves to her as she drives off. As soon as she's out of sight his smile drops.

RICHARD (cont'd)

The most odious woman alive.

RORY

Really? What happened to your screening process?

RICHARD

The harpy detector wasn't working that day.

They have now reached the clubhouse. They stand before two identical doors.

RICHARD (cont'd)

Now, I'll meet you back here in forty-minutes.

RORY

Okay.

RICHARD

And then, if you'd like, we can get some lunch.

RORY

That'd be great.

RICHARD

Fine.

RORY

Cool.

RICHARD

Yes.

10 INT. COUNTRY CLUB - MEN'S STEAM ROOM - SHORT TIME LATER - DAY (DAY 2) 10

Three older men sit in the steamy room all draped in towels. ED, JULIAN, and WALLACE. Ed sprays himself with cold water mist.

JULIAN

And I'm telling him, I've been coming here for twenty years, my young friend, and for twenty years that cart, number 43, has been my golf cart.

ED

He should've known that.

JULIAN

Everybody knows that.

WALLACE

Did he give you the cart?

JULIAN

He gave me the cart.

ED

You should've never had to ask because he should've known that.

Richard enters, towel around his waist, holding the Financial Times.

RICHARD

Hello, gentlemen.

JULIAN

Richard, good to see you.

RICHARD

I heard about your cart.

JULIAN

I'm still angry about it.

WALLACE

Richard, who was that young lady I saw you on the golf course with?

JULIAN
Lorelai's girl.

RICHARD
(reading his paper)
Um-hmm.

WALLACE
You're lucky. My granddaughter looks like she just fell off a potato truck.

ED
My granddaughter would never be caught here. It might get in the way of her time spent in the tattoo parlor or getting something pierced or doing whatever she does while she runs the streets wild like a rabid dog.

JULIAN
Cut her off. That will get her attention.

WALLACE
I can help you with the litigation.

RICHARD
Actually, Rory just started Chilton.

ED
Really?

JULIAN
Damn fine school.

RICHARD
She wanted to learn to play golf.
I actually think she's taking to it quite well.

JULIAN
Just as long as she's not taken with a certain golf cart.

11 INT. COUNTRY CLUB - WOMEN'S STEAM ROOM - DAY (DAY 2)

11

TWO FIFTY-SOMETHING WOMEN are gossiping, hair and bodies wrapped in towels.

WOMAN #1

And you know she took the house in Amaganset.

WOMAN #2

She deserved it, putting up with that tramp all those years.

We PAN OVER to see Rory, hair and body wrapped in a towel, quietly listening to the conversation.

WOMAN #1

Last year, Christmas, he bought them both the same bracelet.

WOMAN #2

She should've just shot him like his first wife did.

WOMAN #1

Oh, I loved Janie. Is she out yet?

Gloria walks in.

GLORIA

Nannette. Peg.

WOMAN #1

Gloria, hi. Good game?

GLORIA

Not bad. You?

The most odious woman alive.

Rory smiles to herself.

12 EXT. INDEPENDENCE INN - SUNDAY AFTERNOON (DAY 2)

12

WORKERS are decorating trees and setting up a tent. Lorelai is on the porch in the middle of a bunch of workers.

LORELAI

(calling out to various workers)

Okay, I need more tulle. Think major tutu here. Gary! The ribbons go on the chairs, not on the trees.

At this point, a MAN arrives holding a cage with a swan in each hand.

SWAN MAN

Where do you want the swans?

LORELAI

Oh, great. Do you know where the pond is?

SWAN MAN

Nope.

LORELAI

Michel walks out onto the porch.

MICHEL
You screeched?

LORELAI
Show this guy where to put the swans.

MICHEL
Absolutely not!

LORELAI
I can't leave, okay? I've got a tulle festival going on out here.

MICHEL
I will never go near those filthy birds.

LORELAI Why?

MICHEL
I hate the swans.

LORELAI
These particular swans?

MICHEL
All swans. I was attacked by a band of swans in the Luxembourg Gardens when I was a boy. No one forgets that.

LORELAI
No, not being attacked by a band of swans. Was it an all-boy band?
You know, like a scary, feathery N'Sync kind of fiasco?

little funny.

At this point, DRELLA, the harp player, arrives on the scene.

DRELLA

Hey, Pepe Le Pew, give me a hand with this thing.

MICHEL

No.

LORELAI

Michel, it's either the swans or Drella.

MICHEL

So, either one beast of terror or another.

DRELLA

What's he babbling about?

MICHEL

(to Lorelai)

Don't.

LORELAI

He's afraid of the swans.

MICHEL

Thank you.

DRELLA

Yeah, well, of course. He's French.

MICHEL

(turning to the Swan Guy)

Okay, I'll take you to the pond.
But stay far away from me.

Michel walks off, the Swan Guy following. He turns around every few steps to make sure the vicious birds are at a safe distance. Drella watches him go.

13 INT. COUNTRY CLUB - CLUB GARDEN RESTAURANT - AFTERNOON
(DAY 2)

13

Rory and Richard are at the club garden restaurant for lunch.

RORY

She caught him in the pool house with the tennis pro, not the riding instructor.

RICHARD

I had no idea.

RORY

That committee of yours isn't looking at people as much as you think.

RICHARD

Why would they? From what you've told me, they're all involved in one nefarious activity or another.

RORY

It's a conspiracy.

RICHARD

It's Peyton Place. Is there more?

RORY

Can you handle it?

RICHARD

I'll steel myself.

RORY

Okay. So, Mr. Neville likes all

ED

Call me Ed.

JULIAN

Call me Ed, too.

The men laugh. Rory smiles.

RORY

It's nice to meet you.

RICHARD

Would you like to join us?

ED

If Rory doesn't mind us intruding on her time with her grandfather.

RORY

No, that's fine.

JULIAN

Well, that's for her to find out.

Richard and Rory share a small intimate smile.

Rory is at a table waiting for Lorelai. She's still wearing the golf hat. LUKE comes up and pours her some coffee.

LUKE

Interesting hat.

RORY

I went golfing with my grandfather today.

LUKE

Really?

RORY

Yeah.

LUKE

Did you know that golf courses are an environmental blight because of the chemicals they use to keep the grass green?

RORY

(joking)

Actually, I did.

He stares at her.

RORY (cont'd)

Bad joke. Sorry.

Luke walks away. Lorelai enters and rushes over to Rory.

LORELAI

Oh, my God. This day. The swans. The tulle. My head.

Grandma gave it to me.

LORELAI

Oh, now that's just mean.

RORY

It's not that bad.

LORELAI

You want a mirror?

RORY

I'm taking it off.

Rory takes off the hat.

LORELAI

So, tell me. Rory's golfing adventure. How was it?

RORY

It was fine.

LORELAI

I brought you some of Sookie's chocolate cake to make you feel better.

RORY

It wasn't that bad.

LORELAI

You are an unbelievably sweet kid.
Where on earth did you get that from?

(calling to Luke)

Hey, Luke? Am I mistaken, or did the sign on the door say "open"?

(back to Rory)

Sorry. Where were we?

RORY

I could even hit the ball.
Sometimes it wasn't my ball, but the intentions were good.

LORELAI

Good intentions and no physical exertion what-so-ever was what the game of golf was built on. Did you order?

RORY

I'm not hungry. I had a big lunch at the club.

Luke brings over coffee.

LUKE

With all the other devastators of our land.

RORY

Luke, I really am sorry. I didn't know.

Luke walks off.

LORELAI

You had a big lunch at the club?

RORY

Yes. It was quite good.

LORELAI

Quite? What's with the "quite"?

RORY

What do you mean?

LORELAI

You never said "quite" before.

RORY

I've said "quite" plenty of times.

LORELAI

Whatever. So, besides the quite nice lunch you had, what else happened?

LORELAI

Wow. Sounds like you really had a good time.

RORY

I did.

LORELAI

Really?

RORY

Really.

LORELAI

Really?

RORY

Really.

LORELAI

Really?

RORY

Okay, new word now.

LORELAI

No, I just -- I'm surprised to hear you say that. I was sure that you'd be bored.

RORY

I was kind of surprised, too.
But, I don't know, it was pretty

LORELAI

(dawning on her)

You really did have fun.

Luke comes over and puts a cheeseburger in front of Lorelai. Lorelai doesn't even notice the food. She's processing this whole Rory situation.

RORY

Yeah.

LORELAI

Well, that's great. Really. Really great.

LUKE

I thought you were starving.

LORELAI

Things change. Move on.

Luke walks off, shaking his head. Rory is examining the hat Emily gave her.

RORY

So, does this really look that bad on me?

LORELAI

Uh... no. I think it's cute.

Rory smiles and puts the hat back on. Lorelai just looks at her, not feeling too happy right now.

15 EXT. INDEPENDENCE INN - THE NEXT DAY (DAY 3)

15

MISS PATTY is giving waltz lessons to the brides and grooms on the wooden dance floor put down for the express purpose of the outdoor wedding. She watches them with disgust.

MISS PATTY

This is your wedding day. Feel each other. Use the thumping of your heart as your metronome. Let passion be your choreographer. Be as light on your toes as you are in your heart. Oh, no, no, no, darling. Here, let me show you.

MATT

Again?

Miss Patty grabs Matt and pulls him close.

MISS PATTY

You know, in some parts of the world if you dance this close you're cheating on your wife.

MATT

(calling to his brother)
You're next.

MARK

Take your time.

Miss Patty tightens Matt's arms around her and continues dancing. Lorelai walks past them and we follow her onto the porch.

father. Though why he'd volunteer that freely, I don't know.

LORELAI

My father?

MICHEL

Yes.

LORELAI

Are you sure?

MICHEL

Please just take the phone.

She takes the phone from him. She looks at Rory, who shrugs.

LORELAI

Hi, Dad... It's Lorelai. Who else calls you Dad?... Yeah.
She's right here. Hold on.

She holds the phone out to Rory.

LORELAI (cont'd)

It's for you.

RORY

Thanks.

DRELLA

Hey, you think I started playing the harp because I thought it would make me cool? That I'd suddenly be one of the "in" crowd? Or that is gave me some great happy hour conversations? No. The music drives me, lady. I'll play what I feel and you'll love it.

ARLENE

I will give you an extra hundred dollars.

DRELLA

You just bought yourself a jukebox.

Drella and a very relieved Arlene walk off past Lorelai who is still staring at Rory talking on the phone.

16 EXT. LORELAI'S PORCH - EVENING (NIGHT 3)

Lorelai is reading a book. Rory is staring into a mirror.

LORELAI

Should I leave you two alone?

LORELAI
Veronica Lake.

RORY Can't see.

She curls the top into bangs.

LORELAI
Little Lord Fauntleroy?

RORY Next.

She pulls Rory's hair back like she's bald.

LORELAI
Jack Nicholson.

RORY Mom.

Rory smiles and pulls away. Her hair falls back down.

LORELAI
Hey, now that one I like.

RORY
Fine, I'll leave it alone.

RORY (O.S.)
Yep.

Rory comes back out and hands Lorelai a soda.

LORELAI
Anything wrong?

RORY
No. He just found a book that we were talking about, that's all.

LORELAI
And he called you to tell you.

RORY Yeah. Why?

LORELAI
No reason.
(beat) It's just weird that he called the inn that's all. He doesn't do that much. Or ever, actually.

RORY
Well, he knew I was looking for it.

LORELAI
Oh. Sure.

Rory exits into the house.

BABETTE

I'm calling him and calling him, and I walk around to the side of the porch and this big orange tush is just staring me in the face.

LORELAI

I hate when that happens.

BABETTE

Yeah. He must've been meowing for an hour, but Morey was playing some Thelonius on the Steinway and when Morey plays, I go into this trance where all I see is blue, and cool, and stars...

There's a LOUD THUD and a pissed off MEOW.

MOREY (O.S.)

He's out, baby!

BABETTE

Oh, never mind precious.
(calling to Morey)
Play me home, baby.

We see Morey playing the piano. The beautiful sounds of "Teach Me Tonight" waft through the air.

BABETTE (cont'd)

Hey, you know what I was thinking?

RORY

That Madonna and Sean Penn should get re-married?

LORELAI

Besides that. I was thinking that your golfing expedition should totally count as a dinner.

RORY

What do you mean?

LORELAI

I mean, I think I can get us out of going to the grandparents on Friday. We could go grab a movie or something.

RORY

Oh, well, that's okay.

LORELAI

It's no big deal, really.

RORY

No. It'll just freak Grandma out.

LORELAI

I can handle the freak out. Really. I've done that.

RORY

I have to get the book from Grandpa, anyhow. Let's just go.

LORELAI

LORELAI Nothing.
(beat) It's just that I asked you to at least, you know, ask before you just take my stuff.

RORY
I'm sorry.

LORELAI
No problem.
(beat)
I mean, it's not too much for a simple "Can I borrow it, Mom?" is it?

RORY
No, it's not. Geez. Lighten up.

LORELAI
It's my favorite sweater, too.

RORY Since when?

LORELAI Since always.

RORY

This is not your favorite sweater.

LORELAI
Yes, it is. And now it's going to out. Your boobs are way bigger than mine.

LORELAI

That is not true.

RORY

Yes it is.

LORELAI

Your boobs are totally bigger than mine.

RORY

You're crazy.

LORELAI

You want to measure?

RORY

What?

LORELAI

Get the measuring tape. Right now.

RORY

I am not going to measure my boobs.

LORELAI

Because you know that you're bigger.

RORY

"Your boobs are bigger then mine"?
I'm a mental case.

SOOKIE

So apologize.

LORELAI

I was too mad and stupid to apologize last night, and then she was gone before I got up this morning. God, what is wrong with me?

SOOKIE

You're very possessive of your sweaters.

LORELAI

Sookie...

SOOKIE

No, I understand. If someone even breathes too hard on my paring knife, I'm like a crazy spider monkey.

LORELAI

This isn't about sweaters. It's about the golfing thing. And the liking it thing. She had fun, Sookie. Just like my mother said she would.

SOOKIE

Yeah. That's gotta hurt.

LORELAI

LORELAI

Yes, I was.

SOOKIE

Yes, you were.

LORELAI

I'm four years old.

SOOKIE

You're jealous.

LORELAI

I am not jealous.

SOOKIE

Yes, you are. You're jealous that they like Rory better than you.

LORELAI

Wow, thanks for the hug.

SOOKIE

See, I'm bad at advice talks. Can we talk about soup? I'm good with soup.

LORELAI

No, I'm sorry. You're fine. I'm just all mixed up. I left that life, you know? The club, my parents, I ran from it as soon as I could. It just never occurred to me that she might want that. It did, however, occur to my mother. God, I hate that she was right.

SOOKIE (cont'd)
Look at you. You're beautiful.

LORELAI
I have to be adult about this.
If she wants the country club life, then more power to her, right? I mean, little white gloves and Coming girls happy, right?

SOOKIE
Sure. And if they're on Prozac, absolutely.

LORELAI
I never thought I raised that kind of kid. Not that there's anything wrong with that kind of kid, it's just I never thought that was Rory.
Maybe it's not. I don't know. Am I obsessing? Sookie? Hello?

Sookie is totally absorbed in the strawberries. In the background we see Jackson walking by. He stops when he sees Sookie and the strawberries. He stares at her, stunned.

LORELAI (cont'd)
(to Sookie)
Do I have to put on my strawberry costume to get your full attention?

SOOKIE
No, I'm sorry.
(beat)
You have a strawberry costume?

JACKSON Unbelievable!

Sookie turns around, caught. Jackson comes storming up to her.

SOOKIE
Jackson.

JACKSON

So, this is what we've come to?
You sneaking around behind my back buying someone else's strawberries?

SOOKIE

I was desperate.

JACKSON

You disgust me.

SOOKIE

I needed the strawberries.

JACKSON

Well, now you got them. I hope you're very happy together.

Jackson storms off. Sookie goes after him.

SOOKIE

Jackson, wait!

JACKSON

No.

He starts running. She starts running after him. Lorelai looks after the two fruit nuts running down the street. She sighs and starts off.

18 , EXT. INDEPENDENCE INN - WEDDING DAY - DAY (DAY 5)

18

The tent is up. The vows are taken. All is well. Everything looks beautiful. The brides dance happily with their grooms.
Miss Patty dances closely with the FATHER OF THE BRIDE. Drella leads the band with her harp. Lorelai stands outside the tent, watching. A giddy Arlene comes over to her.

ARLENE

We did it.

LORELAI

Yes, we did.

ARLENE

Oh God, I feel wonderful.

LORELAI

I'm so happy it turned out the way you wanted it.

ARLENE

You have no idea. They just told me they're going to share a condo.
In Tuscon. Arizona. That's hundreds of miles away!

LORELAI

Congratulations.

ARLENE

Thank you!

MUSIC starts PLAYING.

ARLENE (cont'd)

Oh, Sister Sledge! Excuse me!

She dances happily back to the tent. Lorelai looks over and sees Rory manning the guestbook table. Lorelai takes a deep breath and walks over to her.

LORELAI

Hey, stranger.

RORY

Hey.

LORELAI

Good turnout?

RORY

Yep.

LORELAI

Can I get you something to drink?

RORY

Are you trying to make up?

LORELAI

No, I'm trying to hydrate you.

RORY

I'm fine, thanks.

LORELAI

I'm sorry.

RORY

That's okay.

LORELAI

A crazy evil spirit obsessed with bra size took over my body.

ROPY

It happens.

LORELAI

She's gone now.

RORY

Good to know.

LORELAI

You know, I'm glad you're bonding with your grandparents.

RORY

You are not.

LORELAI

Yes, I am. It's just a little weird for me, that's all. I can't relate to it.

RORY

You could if you tried.

LORELAI

No. My parents and me, we're too... too much has happened and... well,
I'm glad you are, anyhow.

RORY

Okay.

LORELAI

I never meant to cut you off from them so completely, you know. It just happened. Not having them in my life felt so... right. So, I just never thought that... I'm sorry.

A LITTLE GIRL comes running out of the inn followed by her IRATE MOTHER.

IRATE MOTHER

I did not pay five hundred dollars for that dress so you could run around and mess it up. Now you sit and be still. And cross your legs. You're a lady.

Lorelai and Rory watch as the mother takes the little girl by the hand and sits her at a chair. The little girl sits up straight, proper, and miserable.

LORELAI

God, I must have had a million dresses just like that when I was a kid.

RORY

Doesn't really scream you.

LORELAI

No. I did all the screaming.

They stand there a beat.

RORY

Thank you for not putting me in a dress like that.

Lorelai smiles at Rory.

LORELAI

You're welcome.

They watch the little girl another beat.

LORELAI (cont'd)

'Course wearing those dresses wasn't all bad.

RORY

No?

LORELAI

They really fly up when you twirl around.

RORY

Huh.

LORELAI

And if you have those ruffled underwear on? It's a real crowd pleaser.

Rory smiles at her. They watch the party another beat.

RORY

If it makes you feel better, I think I got a fungus from the steam room.

Lorelai hugs her daughter. They both watch the party.

19 INT. GILMORE HOUSE - LIVING ROOM - EVENING (NIGHT 6)

19

Emily is opening the door. Lorelai and Rory enter. Lorelai carries a big white box.

RORY

Hi Grandma.

EMILY

My goodness. What's that?

LORELAI

We brought some dessert.

EMILY

Really? How thoughtful.

She opens the box and looks in.

EMILY (cont'd)

What is it?

LORELAI

Blueberry shortcake.

EMILY

I've never heard of blueberry shortcake.

LORELAI

It's a Stars Hollow specialty.

EMILY

Why is it already cut?

LORELAI

Oh, well, it's left over.

Emily stares at her.

LORELAI (cont'd)

From the wedding.

Emily stares at her.

LORELAI (cont'd)

At the inn.

19

EMILY

Yes, I know where the wedding was.

LORELAI

Sorry. You were just doing the staring thing...

EMILY

You brought us used dessert?

LORELAI

It's not used. It's left over.

EMILY

How nice. I'll just put it in the kitchen next to my half-empty box of Cheer.

Emily hands it to Sarah who takes it into the kitchen.

LORELAI

Hey, she's in a good mood tonight.

EMILY

Can I get you a drink?

LORELAI

White wine?

RORY

Coke?

Emily crosses to the bar and pours them all drinks.

EMILY

So, Lorelai, did Rory tell you all about the wonderful time she had at the club?

LORELAI

Why, yes she did.

EMILY

Your father was simply flying all week. She really charmed him.

LORELAI

Well, if anyone could it would be her.

EMILY

I mean, in this day of MTV, and a hundred television channels, who would've imagined that a young girl could still get a thrill spending a simple afternoon with her grandfather.

LORELAI

That wine would be good right about now.

EMILY

I think we should consider getting her a membership, don't you?

LORELAI

If she wants, sure.

EMILY

I mean, to have a place she can go to socialize, that's very valuable for a young girl.

LORELAI

Yeah, especially since that crack den closed down on the corner, all her good friends are gone.

Emily looks at her.

LORELAI (cont'd)

What do you think mom, should I pursue the career in comedy?

EMILY

It's just very interesting the way things turn out, isn't it?

Emily turns back to the drinks. Lorelai sighs. It's going to be a long night. Richard enters.

RICHARD

Ah, Rory. You're here. I have a surprise. I not only found that copy of Mencken's Chrestomathy that we discussed, but a first edition copy of his memoirs as well.

RORY

(thrilled)
You're kidding.

RICHARD

In my office if you'd like to see them.

RORY

Oh, my God. I totally would.

An excited Rory jumps up and heads out with Richard. Emily shoves the wine bottle in Lorelai's hand and sprints after them.

EMILY

I'd like to take a look at those myself.

Lorelai watches as her daughter walks out of the room, flanked by her parents. It's a picture that leaves her with some bittersweet feelings. She sips the wine, as we:

FADE OUT.

END OF SHOW
